

Earthworm can manufacture custom augers

LEADING THE WAY

As Earthworm Attachments approaches its 20th anniversary, the company reflects on two decades of growth and innovation. Founded in 2004, the family-owned business has grown to become one of New Zealand’s leading providers of high-quality hydraulic attachments, with a strong foundation in earth drilling solutions, catering to various industries, including construction, agriculture, and civil.

One of the cornerstones of Earthworm Attachment’s success is its partnership with Auger Torque, a global manufacturer of hydraulic attachments. The collaboration allows Earthworm Attachments to offer top-tier earth drills and augers known for durability and efficiency. The products are engineered with features such as forged hood ears and epicyclic gearboxes, ensuring high performance and reliability even in the most demanding conditions.

Earthworm also specialises in custom auger solutions, including hard rock augers designed for drilling in abrasive and hard rock conditions. These are tailored to meet the specific needs of their clients, ensuring that every drilling challenge is met with the right tools.

Family values and commitment to quality

Earthworm Attachments is built on values of family, honesty, and loyalty. These principles are reflected in their commitment to quality and customer satisfaction, with goals of helping increase machine utilisation and profitability by providing efficient and robust attachments to get the job done safely and on time.

Nationwide reach and customer assurance

The expert team brings extensive technical knowledge and a passion for the industry, ensuring clients receive the best advice and support possible.

Earthworm Attachments operates from three centres located in Auckland, Christchurch, and Gore, making it easy for customers across New Zealand to access their products and services, ensuring clients can quickly and efficiently obtain the attachments they need.

30-Day Money Back Guarantee

To demonstrate their confidence in the quality of their products, Earthworm Attachments offers a 30-Day Money Back Guarantee on all hydraulic attachments.

This allows customers to experience what Earthworm’s products can do for them, providing peace of mind and assurance in their investment.

“We want you to experience firsthand what Earthworm Attachments can do for
